- (a) Environmental and health information – where there is a substantial risk to the environment or to public health and safety, and
 - (b) Public administration information – where there is potential corruption, misconduct, or maladministration in public administration.
- 5.1.2 Public Interest Information will generally show that an employee or director of HomeStart has been engaged in:
- (a) illegal activity; or
 - (b) an irregular and unauthorised use of public money; or
 - (c) substantial mismanagement of public resources; or
 - (d) conduct that causes a substantial risk to public health and safety, or to the environment; or
 - (e) maladministration in or in relation to the performance of official functions.

5.2 Who can make a Public Interest Disclosure?

5.2.1 The following people can make Public Interest Disclosures:

- (a) HomeStart employees,
- (b) Members of the Executive Committee,

5.3.1 A person who makes a Disclosure of Public Interest Information:

- (a) may elect to remain anonymous;
- (b) is otherwise entitled to have their identity kept confidential; and
- (c) will not be subject to any liability because of the disclosure.

5.3.2 Anonymity

Where an Informant who makes a Disclosure wants to remain anonymous, sufficient details must be provided in support of the disclosure to enable the matter to be properly investigated. The use of an identifier or password may be suitable identification.

5.3.3 Confidentiality of Informant and Information

- (a) The identity of an Informant who makes a Disclosure of Public Interest Information needs to be protected. Confidentiality will be maintained in all circumstances, unless the Informant consents in writing to their identity being disclosed or disclosure is otherwise required so that the matter may be properly investigated.
- (b) Information relating to the disclosure will be treated confidentially, except in circumstances where the investigation process requires the information to be disclosed. Such disclosure will be subject to all relevant laws and protections, including the principles of natural justice.

5.3.4 No liability

A person who makes an appropriate disclosure of environmental and health information, or a public officer (namely, HomeStart employees, Members of the Executive Committee and Board Members) who makes an appropriate disclosure of public administration information, is not subject to any liability civil or criminal liability because of that disclosure.

5.3.5 Victimisation

It is unlawful to victimise a person for disclosing information that is in the public interest:

- (a) Complaints about victimisation, or a breach of confidentiality, must be reported to the Co-ordination Officer or 'YOURCALL' and will be investigated as a separate matter.
- (b) An informant making a public interest disclosure who considers that they have been the subject of victimisation is entitled to have the victimisation dealt with by the Equal Opportunity Tribunal or in an appropriate civil court but not both.

The Responsible Officer must assess and manage the risk of detrimental action against those that make an appropriate disclosure. This may include assessing the risk of unnecessarily disclosing the informant's identity and the need to take appropriate action if the informant raises any fears or threats of victimisation.

5.3.6 False or misleading disclosures

Informants are not protected under the provisions of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2018, and may be subject to additional penalties, if they make a disclosure knowing that the information is false or misleading in a material particular.

5.4 How to make a disclosure

5.4.1 A Disclosure of Public Interest Information may be made verbally or in writing as follows:

- (a) where the information relates to a HomeStart employee – to the person responsible for the management or supervision of the employee or to one of the Responsible Officers;
- (b) where the information relates to one of the Responsible Officers – to a Responsible Officer not implicated by the information;
- (c) where the information relates to all of the Responsible Officers - to the People & Culture Leader who must then notify the Chair of the Board;
- (d) where the information relates to a Member of the Board of Directors - to one of the Responsible Officers.

5.4.2 Disclosure to 'YOURCALL'

Public Interest Disclosures may also be made to the 'YOURCALL' service via the contact details in section 7.

5.4.3 Where a disclosure is made to the 'YOURCALL' service, a confidential report with recommendations for resolution/action will be referred to the Responsible Officers. However:

- (a) if the report relates to one of the Responsible Officers, the report will not be referred to the Responsible Officer implicated; and
- (b) if the report also relates to a disclosure about all of the Responsible Officers, the report will be referred to the People & Culture Leader who must provide the report to the Chair of the Board.

5.5 What do I do if I receive a Public Interest Disclosure?

5.5.1 If you are not a Responsible Officer and a person makes a report or disclosure to you that you reasonably believe is a Disclosure of Public Interest Information, you should consider the following options:

- (a) encourage the person to make the report or disclosure directly to the Co-ordination Officer or one of the other Responsible Officers,
- (b) encourage the person to make the report or disclosure to the 'YOURCALL' service, or
- (c) if the subject matter is sufficiently serious or urgent consider making the report or disclosure yourself, and
- (d) keep in mind the protections for Informants set out in section 5.3.

5.6 Consideration, Assessment, and Investigation.

- 5.6.1 The Co-ordination Officer will assess disclosures and determine whether they require investigation in accordance with this Policy or should be reported to a Relevant Authority. Whether a disclosure is an “appropriate disclosure” will depend on whether the requirements in the Act are satisfied. The Co-ordination Officer should make a note of their assessment and the reasons for it. That note should be retained securely in HomeStart’s document management system.
- 5.6.2 The Investigations Officer will conduct a formal investigation and provide a report and recommendations to the Co-ordination Officer as required. The Investigation Officer may do this personally, with the assistance of the People & Culture Leader or they may engage an independent service provider to conduct the investigation.
- 5.6.3 The Co-ordination Officer will submit the report to the CEO for decision or action and the CEO must also consider whether the report should be referred to the Board, either to note for information purposes only or for decision/action.
- 5.6.4 The person making a Public Interest Disclosure will be kept informed as to the progress of the report and any subsequent investigation. They may choose to not be informed or kept up to date, particularly if the disclosure has been made anonymously. The Responsible Officer must take reasonable steps to notify the Informant, if their identity is known, that an assessment of the information has been made and the outcome of that assessment within 30 days of the disclosure being made. Where an Informant believes their disclosure is not being dealt with appropriately the Informant may raise their concerns with HomeStart’s Chief Executive Officer.

5.7 Conflict of Interest Principles

- 5.7.1 Conflict of interest principles as they relate to the Co-ordination Officer and Investigation Officer are as follows:
 - (a) if the disclosure relates to the Chief Risk Officer the functions of the Co-ordination Officer will be performed by the People & Culture Leader,
 - (b) if the disclosure relates to the General Counsel the functions of the Investigations Officer will be outsourced to an independent service provider by the Chief Risk Officer, and if the disclosure also relates to the Chief Risk Officer, the People & Culture Leader will outsource the functions of the Investigations Officer,
 - (c) if the disclosure relates to both the Chief Risk Officer and the General Counsel the functions of the Co-ordination Officer will be performed by the People & Culture Leader, the functions of the Investigations Officer will be outsourced to an independent service provider, and the CEO will be confidentially briefed on the relevant circumstances and kept informed as to the progress and outcome of the investigation (if the CEO has a conflict of interest, the Chair of the Board must be notified instead).
- 5.7.2 In relation to reports to be submitted to the CEO under section 5.6.3, if a report relates to the CEO (either wholly or in part), the report must instead be referred to the Chair of the Board for decision or action and the Chair of the Board must also consider whether the report should be tabled at the next meeting of the Board, either to note for information purposes only or for decision/action.
